Keynote Speakers

Michael Perry, is a humorist and New York Times bestselling author whose most popular book “Population 485” is based in part on his 25 years of service in firefighting and EMS. Perry lives in rural Wisconsin with his family and online at www.sneezingcow.com. While his speaking and performing schedule has drastically reduced his call volume, he is still gratefully active with his local fire and rescue service. Perry’s essays and nonfiction have appeared in numerous publications including The New York Times Magazine, Esquire, Backpacker, Outside, Runner’s World, and others. He is a contributing editor to Men’s Health Magazine. Educated at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, author, registered nurse, former firefighter and active first responder, Michael Perry will examine both the humorous and poignant sides of emergency services in a lively address based on his bestselling memoir “Population 485 - Meeting Your Neighbors One Siren at a Time.” Perry says the single most meaningful thing he has ever done is serving 12 years beside his neighbors on the New Auburn Area Fire Department.

Derek Cole is a partner and co-founder of Cota Cole LLP, a law firm with offices in Northern and Southern California. Mr. Cole’s practice focuses on local government law. He has served as a city attorney, county counsel, and general counsel to a number of local agencies. He has also represented public agencies in a broad range of litigation matters. Mr. Cole’s experience includes advising local EMS agencies, cities, and ambulance providers in matters involving the EMS Act. In particular, Mr. Cole has advised or represented parties concerning grandfathered rights under “Section 201” of the EMS Act and regarding the formation of operating areas under “Section 224” of the Act. Mr. Cole received his law degree from the University of Pacific-McGeorge School of Law in 1999 and a B.A. from the University of California-Santa Barbara in 1996. He was recognized in 2013 and 2014 as a “Rising Star”

by Northern California Superlawyers Magazine and as a “Best of the Bar” honoree in 2014 by the Sacramento Business Journal.
