HIV/AIDS Basics

What is HIV?

Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV) is the virus that can cause Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS). HIV can attack a person's immune system (your body's defense system against diseases). If HIV is not treated, it can weaken a person's immune system and make it easier for a person to get sick. With treatment, drugs can slow or stop the harmful effects of HIV so that many people with HIV can live long healthy lives.

What is AIDS?

AIDS is the most serious stage of HIV. By the time a person is diagnosed with AIDS by a doctor, HIV has seriously hurt the body's immune system. There are effective treatments to prevent and treat AIDS-related illnesses.

How do you get HIV?

A person living with HIV can pass the disease to another person whether or not they look sick, have an AIDS diagnosis, or are on medication. You can get HIV from:

- Sex: HIV can be carried in semen (cum), pre-cum, vaginal fluids, or anal mucus and can enter a person's body during sex.
- Sharing Needles: A person can get HIV if they share needles or syringes with someone who has HIV. Used needles or syringes for drugs, medicine, piercings, tattoos or for other reasons could have someone else's blood on it that can carry HIV.
- Cut or Sores on the Body: Body fluids that can carry HIV like blood, semen (cum), or vaginal fluids can enter the person's body through open cuts or sores.
- Blood Transfusions: All blood used for transfusions has been tested for HIV since 1985. The risk of transmission in this way is now very low.
- Mother-to-Baby: A pregnant person with HIV can pass it to their baby during pregnancy, birth, or breastfeeding. Passing HIV from mother-to-baby is less common since there are many ways to prevent and treat HIV now.

HIV and the Immune System

HIV can hurt a person's immune system. Over time, if the immune system becomes badly damaged, the body can get a lot of serious illnesses called opportunistic infections (OIs). Key information to know:

- Viral Load Test: A person can take a test that measures the amount of HIV in their blood. This is called a viral load test. When a viral load is high, a person has more HIV in their body. This means that the person's immune system is not fighting HIV very well and the disease might get worse faster. HIV treatment can lower the amount of HIV in a person's body and help them stay healthy. HIV treatment can also lower the chance of passing the virus to sex or needle sharing partners.¹
- CD4 Count: A person can take a CD4 Count test that measures the level of CD4 cells in their blood. CD4 cells help fight infections in a person's body. HIV attacks and lowers the number of CD4 cells in the body and makes it harder to fight infections. Doctors measure how healthy a person's immune system is by checking the CD4 count. HIV treatment can slow down the effects of HIV in a person's body so that their immune system can stay healthy.
- If a person with HIV does not get treatment, their body slowly loses its ability to fight infections. People with CD4 counts under 200 have AIDS and can get serious life threatening infections. Lowering HIV virus in the blood with medication can help the CD4 count to rise to normal levels.

What Can I Do to Stay Healthy?

Getting and staying in medical care is the most important thing a person can do to stay healthy. Do not wait until you are sick to see a doctor. Other things that you can do to stay healthy are:

- Eat healthy: Healthy eating is a good way to keep your immune system strong.

What Can I Do to Stay Healthy? (continued)

- Exercise regularly: Adults need two (2) types of physical activity, aerobic (such as brisk walking) and muscle strengthening. Moderate aerobic activity should be done at least two (2) and a half hours every week. Muscle strengthening MOVE YOUR WAY. Adults need a mix of physical activity to stay healthy.

Moderate-intensity aerobic activity*
Anything that gets your heart beating faster counts.

If you prefer vigorous-intensity aerobic activity (like running), aim for at least 75 minutes a week.
If that's more than you can do right now, do what you can. Even 5 minutes of physical activity has real health benefits.

Walk. Run. Dance. Play. What's your move?

www.health.gov/moveyourway

- Stay healthy: Avoid getting sick (like the cold or flu) which can weaken the immune system by washing your hands thoroughly with warm, soapy water to help remove germs. Talk to your provider about ways to prevent getting infections (like STDs or Hepatitis) or what vaccines you should get to help prevent certain diseases (like COVID-19 or shingles).
- Take medications as prescribed: Taking medications exactly how they are meant to be taken is also important to staying healthy. HIV medications must be taken as prescribed. When medications are not taken the way they are supposed to be, the virus can become resistant to the medication. This means that the medication will no longer work to protect the immune system.

Information on services available in Orange County begins on page 13. These services are designed to help a person remain in medical care and stay healthy.

HIV Services in Orange County

The first cases of AIDS in Orange County were reported in 1981. Since then, the OC Health Care Agency (HCA), through the HIV Planning and Coordination (HIVPAC) Unit, has worked with providers in the community to offer services and education to help stop the HIV epidemic in Orange County. HCA and its service providers are committed to reducing the number of new HIV cases and providing services to help people living with HIV (PLWH) live long healthy lives.

About the Ryan White HIV/AIDS Program

The Health Resources and Services Administration's (HRSA) Ryan White HIV/AIDS (Ryan White) Program funds services for people living with HIV (PLWH). The Act was named as a memorial to a teenager from Indiana named Ryan White. Ryan faced discrimination because of his AIDS diagnosis. Ryan dedicated himself to educating the public and Congress about HIV before he died of AIDS in 1990. The Ryan White Program is the largest federal program that offers funding for the care and treatment of PLWH.

The purpose of the Ryan White Program is to help PLWH with no other source of healthcare or those with insurance but whose HIV care needs are not being met.

Three (3) main goals of the Ryan White Program are:

- To reduce barriers to treatment and care in areas most affected by HIV.
- To coordinate HIV treatment and support services.
- To build a community-based response to HIV by local organizations, advocates, and local public institutions.

The OC Health Care Agency's (HCA) HIV Planning and Coordination Unit works the HIV Planning Council to oversee Ryan White Program funds.

The HIV Planning Council helps decide how Ryan White Program funds are used in the community. The HCA works with service providers to provide these services. Please go to page 38 for more information about the HIV Planning Council.

About the Ending the HIV Epidemic (EHE) Initiative

In 2019, the U.S. government announced the Ending the HIV Epidemic (EHE) Initiative. The EHE Initiative aims to lower the number of new HIV cases in the U.S. by 90% by 2030. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) provide funding to Orange County for EHE services. The EHE Initiative focuses on areas in the U.S. where the number of HIV cases is high, like in Orange County. The main goals of the EHE Initiative are to:

- Increase funding and fill any gaps in services that are not offered through the Ryan White Program
- Create new programs to provide more services for HIV testing, prevention, treatment, and care
- Use data to find where HIV cases are increasing the fastest and use it as a guide to plan for new activities
- Support communities that are most in need and provide more HIV services in those areas

In Orange County, EHE Initiative services are helping to:

- Increase the number of people living with HIV (PLWH) who know their HIV status
- Increase access to HIV prevention services like pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP)
- Help more people diagnosed with HIV to stay in HIV medical care
- Connect more newly diagnosed PLWH to care faster
- Improve the health of all PLWH, especially among populations that have more cases of HIV and are impacted unequally

About Housing Opportunities for Persons with AIDS (HOPWA)

The Housing Opportunities for Persons with AIDS (HOPWA) Program is funded by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. HOPWA funds services to provide low-income people living with HIV (PLWH) and their families with housing assistance and other types of support. The program was created to help reduce or prevent homelessness for PLWH.

In Orange County, the Anaheim Housing Authority receives HOPWA funding and works with the Orange County Health Care Agency to provide housing and support services to PLWH.

Providing Feedback on Services

Your feedback is important to us. Feedback lets providers know if services provided are meeting client needs. It can also help to improve services. There are different ways to provide feedback. Below are a few examples:

Suggestion Boxes

Most provider locations have suggestion drop boxes. Providing comments in the suggestion box can be an easy way to give your feedback about services. You do not have to put your name on your suggestion card.

Client Satisfaction Surveys

Filling out client satisfaction surveys are another good way to share what you think of the services that you are getting. On even years (for example, 2024 and 2026), the Orange County Health Care Agency conducts a Client Satisfaction Survey for all Ryan White HIV/AIDS (Ryan White) program funded services. Some providers also conduct surveys on their own at other times throughout the year. Providers review the results of these surveys. Please take the time to fill them out when you get one. Surveys are anonymous (you do not have to put your name on them).

COMPLAINTS AND GRIEVANCES

Ryan White providers are committed to providing services that are respectful of your rights and needs. Please see a list of your rights and responsibilities starting on page 10 of this handbook. If at any time you feel that a service provider is not respecting your rights as a client, you have the right to file a complaint and/or grievance.

What is a complaint?

Most provider locations have suggestion drop boxes. Providing comments in the suggestion box can be an easy way to give your feedback about services. You do not have to put your name on your suggestion card.

What is a grievance?

A grievance is a formal complaint that has reached the stage where the affected client is looking for a structured procedure to solving the problem.

Our goal is to make sure that all complaints and grievances are resolved quickly and are first addressed with the staff or service provider involved.

RESOLVING PROBLEMS AND GRIEVANCES

The following are the steps you should take to resolve (work out) problems:

1. Identify and be prepared to talk about what you think is a fair solution to the problem.
2. Try to solve the problem with the provider by talking to the staff about your complaint. The provider must listen to your complaint and try to find a solution.
3. Talk to a supervisor at the provider's office about your complaint if you do not feel it was taken care of by talking to staff.

4. If your complaint is not addressed by talking to a supervisor, you have the right to file a formal grievance using the provider's grievance policy. Be prepared to write down or talk about the following:

- Date and time of the event(s)
- Who the event(s) involves
- What you think would be a fair resolution

Most issues are successfully resolved between the client and the provider. If you are still unable to resolve your complaint after following the grievance process, you have the right to file a formal grievance appeal with the OCHCA's HIV Planning and Coordination (HIVPAC) Unit.

HOW TO FILE A GRIEVANCE APPEAL TO HIVPAC

HIVPAC at the OCHCA will review grievance appeals from clients that were not resolved after following the provider's grievance process. You may file a formal appeal with HIVPAC in any of the following ways:

HIV Planning and Coordination
1725B W. 17th Street, P.O. Box 6099, Santa Ana, CA 92706

Phone: (714) 834-8426

RESPONSE FROM HIVPAC

HIVPAC will work with you and the service provider named in the grievance appeal to find the best resolution. If necessary, there is a formal appeal process and a Grievance Appeal Review Panel to help in resolving the grievance appeal. You will receive a letter letting you know about the grievance appeal process and outcome.

HIVPAC shall make sure that there is no discrimination or retaliation against a client that has filed a grievance.

New Client Frequently Asked Questions

1. I just found out that I am HIV-positive or I just moved to Orange County and have HIV. Where can I find information about services available to me in Orange County?

You can find out about services that may be available to you on the Orange County HIV Planning and Coordination Unit webpage at: www.ochealthinfo.com/HIVPAC .

2. What is Ryan White?

The Ryan White HIV/AIDS (Ryan White) Program is a federal program that is designed to help make sure that people living with HIV get and stay in medical care. Examples of services include Case Management, Dental Services, Medical Transportation, Food Pantry, and Mental Health Counseling.

3. What is the Ending the HIV Epidemic (EHE) Initiative?

The Ending the HIV Epidemic (EHE) Initiative is a plan to lower the number of new HIV diagnoses in the U.S. by 90% by 2030. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) provide funding to Orange County for EHE services.

4. Should I be enrolled in case management?

Newly diagnosed clients may benefit from Case Management. Clients only need to be enrolled in case management services if they need regular follow up by a case manager to get or stay in medical care.

5. Do I have to be enrolled in an agency to access services at that agency?

No. Ryan White and EHE services are open to any client who qualifies for services, regardless of where the client is case managed or gets other services.

Keep in mind that some agencies offer services that are not funded by Ryan White and they may limit those services to their clients.

6. Can I access services at more than one agency?

It depends. Some services are only offered at one agency. To find out which services are offered at which agencies, contact one of the agencies listed on the HIV Planning and Coordination webpage: www.ochealthinfo.com/HIVPAC .

7. How do I know if I qualify for a service?

There are different eligibility requirements for Ryan White and EHE services. These requirements can sometimes change. If you do not have a case manager, the best way to find out about eligibility requirements for a service is to contact one of the case management agencies listed on the HIV Planning and Coordination website: www.ochealthinfo.com/HIVServices .

8. I have an eligibility appointment, what should I expect?

An eligibility worker will review documents that are needed to determine eligibility for the Ryan White, EHE, and other programs that you may qualify for, such as the AIDS Drug Assistance Program (ADAP), Medi-Cal (CalOptima), or private insurance. Examples of eligibility documents needed may include proof of HIV status, proof of Orange County residency, proof of disability (only required for certain services), and income documents. You may be asked to submit additional documents to determine if you qualify for services.

9. Why do I have to give so much information about myself to get services?

Ryan White and EHE services are funded by the federal government, which requires specific information about clients for the services that they receive. This information helps to make sure that funds are being used to help people living with HIV. This information also helps make sure that funding continues to be available to help clients that have no other source to pay for their care.

10. What is ARIES?

ARIES is the Ryan White client database. ARIES is used to collect data required by the federal government for Ryan White services. Data is also used to identify trends in service needs.

11. Is my information private?

All HIV services staff are required to follow strict guidelines to make sure that information about you stays private. If you have any questions about how your information is handled by an agency, you may ask to see their “Notice of Privacy Practices.”

12. I am not happy with the services that I am receiving. What can I do?

Respecting a client’s rights and needs is important to all providers. A list of your rights and responsibilities is available in the Client Handbook on page 10. If at any time you feel that a service provider has not respected your rights, please try to resolve the problem with the provider by talking to the staff or supervisor about your complaint. The provider must listen to your complaint and try to find a solution. If your complaint is not addressed, you have the right to file a formal grievance using the provider’s grievance policy. Be prepared to write down or talk about the date and time of the event(s), who the event(s) involves, and what you think would be a fair resolution.
